Description:

Eficaz para uso personal, familia y para alcance evangelístico de la iglesia. Esta Biblia está impresa en un papel de baja porosidad, y tiene un precio que permite usarla como regalo a gran escala. Esta edición de bajo costo presenta el texto bíblico en un formato a 2 columnas, a un tamaño de 8.5 puntos, con notas y referencias cruzadas distribuidas a través de todo el texto y en el margen inferior. Incluye un diccionario bíblico básico y una concordancia; tabla de pesas y medidas, y una sección final sobre «Cómo conocer a Dios de manera personal». Rústica. Cubierta: Escalera.

I bought this version and give it 5 stars. Its formatted well and worth the ridiculously low price I paid for it. BEWARE: There is a copy of this bible (same cover, same publisher, same all-black letter version) being sold which has publishing date of November 2012 and which has the same formatting problems described below. I edited this review to add this note, although the comments below were originally for the red-letter version only. My review from the red-letter version here because I think it may help someone else: I notice differences between the two versions although they should be exact (except for the words of Jesus using red letters in the other). It seems to me these differences are actually formatting errors in the red-letter version. The comments below pertain to the red-letter version.~ The Psalms appear to have been done with the text centered flush in the middle of the page, so it looks a little weird. Just look at the first chapters of Genesis and you'll see what I mean as well. Then the centered text layout reverts to normal paragraph layout. I suspect this may be the case in other books/chapters as well. The weird formatting also appears in some parts of the Gospels sometimes where quotations appear (seems to be indented as well as centered.~ Also the table of contents appears only as 3-columns which is very weird and cluttered for even my small fingers. In both versions however, the TOC links are active so there's that at least. I bought the two (this all-black letter, and the red-letter version) because I saw them at a ridiculously low price today and I will keep them for that reason. Definitely get this one. However, if you want to see the words of Jesus in red letters, I suggest you download a sample or buy and see how you feel about it. If it doesn't work for you at all, you can return it for a full refund as long as you do it quickly (within 7 days I believe).
