Description:

From the bestselling author of How the Irish Saved Civilization and The Gifts of the Jews, his most compelling historical narrative yet. How did an obscure rabbi from a backwater of the Roman Empire come to be the central figure in Western Civilization? Did his influence in fact change the world? These are the questions Thomas Cahill addresses in his subtle and engaging investigation into the life and times of Jesus. Cahill shows us Jesus from his birth to his execution through the eyes of those who knew him and in the context of his time—a time when the Jews were struggling to maintain their beliefs under overlords who imposed their worldview on their subjects. Here is Jesus the loving friend, itinerate preacher, and quiet revolutionary, whose words and actions inspired his followers to journey throughout the Roman world and speak the truth he instilled—in the face of the greatest defeat: Jesus crucifixion as a common criminal. Daring, provocative, and stunningly original, Cahill's interpretation will both delight and surprise.

After reading How the Irish Saved Civilization I had high hopes for this book and the Hinges of History series as a whole. The work under consideration here is not really history as such, though, but rather a quirky and highly individualistic apologetic for the Christian faith. Cahill advises us what to take literally and what to dismiss in the writings of the New Testament based more or less on his own personal beliefs, and it's doubtful that either his conclusions or his emphases will please very many: conservative Christians will condemn the book for being dogmatically weak, as will skeptics for its a priori defense of Christian claims. The Gifts of the Jews, while hardly a specifically Christian apologetic, suffers from the same fallacies.
