Description:

In this Caldecott Medal winner, Mosquito tells a story that causes a jungle disaster. Elegance has become the Dillons hallmark. . . . Matching the art is Aardemas uniquely onomatopoeic text . . . An impressive showpiece.-Booklist, starred review. Winner of Caldecott Medal in 1976 and the Brooklyn Art Books for Children Award in 1977.

This is my favorite childrens book of all time. The illustrations are the best Ive ever seen, and while dark, they are very creative and fascinating. The story itself is also very good, and I love that it has a point at the end, with a moral of the story, without being a very long book. I think all children should read it, if parents could get past the dark tone of the illustrations.
