Description:

Evy can telepathically understand horses, but she's not sure if it's a blessing or a curse. Her secret gift certainly seems to get her in a lot of trouble. When some starving mustangs wander close to the wilderness cabin that she shares with her hermit mother she knows she must help them. Her act of kindness quickly snowballs into a series of events that forever changes her life and the life of a very special mustang filly.

If you love horses, if you love adventure, and if you love a good underlying mystery you are going to love this series. I read all nine books in a matter of days. Evy, the lead character has a connection with horses like no other...she and her artist mother live in the wilderness with little contact with the outside world. So Evy has had plenty of time to harness and improve on her gift. Her adventures, which are often shared with her only friend and neighbor, are realistic for the area that she is living in. On top of this there is an underlying mystery about why her mom has chosen to drop out of main stream society and live off the grid in the wilderness. As Evy gets older her need to know about her mother's past and why she has become a hermit of sorts becomes an obsession. Little does she know how much this secret has to do with her and solving it may change Evy's life forever! I suggest you get the whole series as you are not going to want to stop until you know the whole story! Although written for teens and tweens, it is still an enjoyable read for the adult who loves horses and adventure!
